

Math 493. Comments about doing the homework

Homework is due in class on the due date specified. Late homework will be accepted only in cases of illness, approved absence from town, or extraordinary personal emergency.

Concerning collaboration on homework, it's ok to swap ideas with your friends. What you hand in, though, should represent overwhelmingly your own efforts. It is not permissible to look at a paper someone else is planning to hand in, or to jointly write up solutions. If papers appear which are identical, or nearly so, in whole or in part, this will be regarded as unacceptable.
